Sphere of influence

The Orb is dubbed a 'continuous product warming chamber', heating the product formula within 10 minutes to a perfect delivery temperature and, through a patented applied process, maintaining the heat for up to an hour wherever it is taken. This means it's ideal, says the manufacturer, for delivering popular warming facials and body treatments.

The Orb, launching at the Professional Beauty Show in February, is the first of five products from SPAPLIANCE, a new venture between spa duo Jane Scrivner and Kevin McWilliams.
